How we can help

Everyone needs a certain amount of storage space and this is where we come into the equation! We offer storage space in a multitude of sizes, whether you are moving home and need temporary storage or own a business that needs permanent storage for excess furniture, stationery or archives. T&S selfstore has the facilities to accommodate your particular situation and needs perfectly.

How much storage space do I need?

We can supply a printed inventory of a general household, from which you can calculate your required space to suit your needs.

Document Storage

For office/business needs, we can provide archive storage, freeing dead space in your own premises. Material that you are required to store, such as files, documents, reference material, can be moved easily in cabinets and stored in secure containers at less than the cost of your own office space. Our company policy of purchasing the property we occupy means that there are no third parties involved in our contract. Discuss your requirements with us - we can arrange an immediate quotation or a free on-site visit.
